STEP 3: BENEFICIARY DESIGNATION

If you have any additional primary beneficiaries, or wish to designate any additional contingent beneficiaries, please attach a separate list.

Upon my death, distribute all funds in my retirement account(s) specified in Step 2 as listed below. I revoke all prior beneficiary designations, if any, made by me for these assets.

I understand that if I do not designate a beneficiary, assets will be paid to my estate. If the custodian receives satisfactory proof that all primary beneficiaries have predeceased the applicant, the assets will be paid to the contingent beneficiary(ies).

I understand that I may add or change the beneficiary(ies) designated below at any time after the account is established by filing a new beneficiary designation with the custodian. Any such subsequent beneficiary designation will revoke all prior designations. (If no percentage is specified, the account balance will be shared equally among all designated beneficiaries.)

If your beneficiary allocation totals at least 99%, but less than 100% (e.g., three named beneficiaries are each assigned a 33.33% interest in the account), Lord Abbett will assign the unallocated remainder to the first beneficiary.

Primary Beneficiary(ies): If there is no Primary Beneficiary living at the time of my death, the balance is to be distributed to the Contingent Beneficiaries I designate (see next page), unless I have stipulated a Per Stirpes* Designation within my Primary designation.

Per Stirpes. (Please consult with an estate planning attorney before using Per Stirpes.) If you indicate "yes" on this part of the form, the distribution will be processed as follows. If any primary or contingent beneficiary (as applicable) does not survive me, but leaves descendants who do survive me, then any share otherwise payable to the primary or contingent beneficiary who predeceased me shall instead be paid to such beneficiary's descendants surviving me, by right of representation.

STEP 4: SPOUSAL CONSENT

Important: This section should be reviewed if the shareholder is married and designates a beneficiary other than the spouse. It is the shareholder's responsibility to determine whether this section applies. If the shareholder is married and resides in a community property or marital property state [AZ, CA, ID, LA, NM, NV, TX, WA, or WI], the shareholder may need to obtain his/her spouse's consent if the shareholder has not designated his/her spouse as the primary beneficiary for at least half the account. The shareholder may need to consult with legal counsel. If you are a shareholder in your employer's qualified plan, please talk to your plan administrator. Neither the Custodian nor the plan sponsor is liable for any consequences resulting from a failure of the shareholder to provide proper spousal consent.

I am the spouse of the above-named shareholder. I acknowledge that I have received a full and reasonable disclosure of my spouse's property and financial obligations. Due to any possible consequences of giving up my community property interest in this account, if any, I have been advised to see a tax professional or legal advisor.

I hereby consent to the designation(s) indicated above. I assume full responsibility for any adverse consequence that may result. No tax or legal advice was given to me by the Custodian or plan sponsor.
