What were the Fund costs for the last year? (based on a hypothetical $10,000 investment)

Class Name	Costs of a $10,000 investment	Costs paid as a percentage of a $10,000 investment
Class A	$84	0.80%

How did the Fund perform last year and what affected its performance?

For the fiscal year ended November 30, 2024, the Fund returned 10.10%, reflecting performance at the net asset value (NAV) of Class A shares, with all distributions reinvested, compared to the 10.16% return of a securities market index with investment characteristics similar to those of the Fund, the Credit Suisse Leveraged Loan Index. The Fund's broad-based securities market index, the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index, returned 6.88% over the same period.

Positive factors for the markets included momentum around the soft-landing narrative, which was supported by signs of a cooling labor market and a slowing economy. This led to the U.S. Federal Reserve lowering its policy rate by 50 basis points in September and 25 basis points in November. There were also increased expectations for further rate cuts in 2024. Mixed economic data, including softer consumer price index reports and fluctuating job market indicators, contributed to these rate cut expectations, and also sparked recession fears. However, these factors were mostly balanced by strong consumer spending and retail sales.

Top contributors to performance: Security selection within the Food/Tobacco and Transportation sectors. An underweight allocation to and security selection within BB-rated loans.

Top detractors from performance: Underweight allocation to and security selection within the Healthcare and Retail sectors.
