What were the Fund costs for the last year? (based on a hypothetical $10,000 investment)

Class Name	Costs of a $10,000 investment	Costs paid as a percentage of a $10,000 investment
Class A	$51	0.44%

How did the Fund perform last year and what affected its performance?

For the fiscal year ended October 31, 2024, the Fund returned 32.90%, reflecting performance at the net asset value (NAV) of Class A shares, compared to the 34.07% of a securities market index with investment characteristics similar to those of the Fund, the Russell 2000 Index. The Fund's broad-based securities market index, the S&P 500 Index, returned 38.02% over the same period.

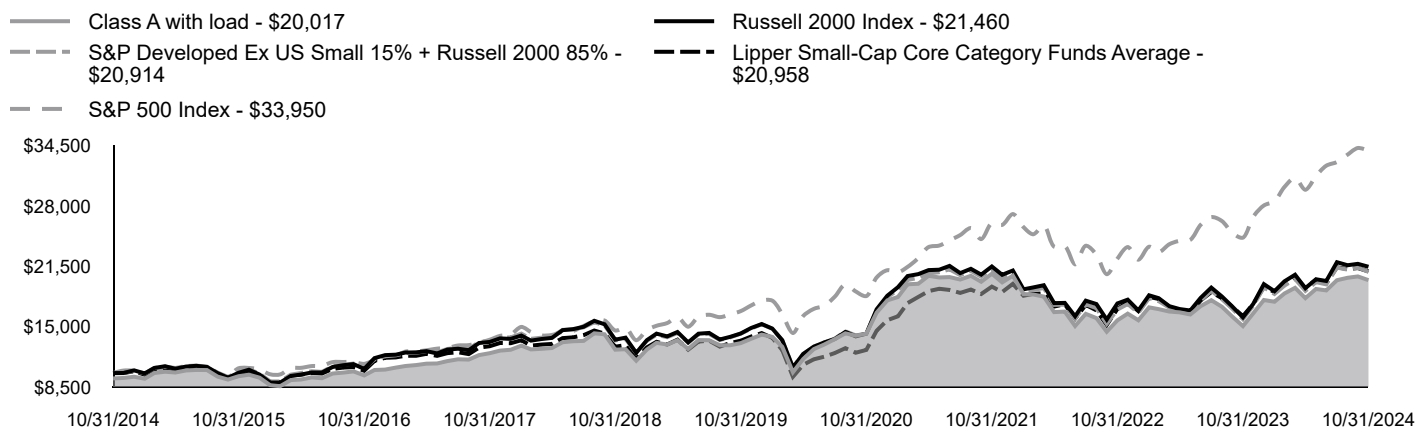

Positive factors for the markets included momentum around the soft-landing narrative, which was supported by signs of a cooling labor market and a slowing economy. This led to the U.S. Federal Reserve (Fed) lowering its policy rate by 50 basis points in September. There were also increased market expectations for further rate cuts in 2024. Mixed economic data, including softer consumer price index reports and fluctuating job market indicators, contributed to these expectations of rate cuts, and also sparked recession fears. However, these factors were mostly balanced by strong consumer spending and retail sales.

Top contributors to performance: The Fund's allocation to domestic micro- and small-cap growth stocks within its investments in the Lord Abbett Micro Cap Growth Fund and the Lord Abbett Developing Growth Fund was a notable contributor to relative performance over the period.

Top detractors from performance: The Fund's allocation to international small-cap stocks within its investments in the Lord Abbett International Opportunities Fund was a notable detractor from relative performance over the period.
