Note that due to the interval fund structure the fund has limited liquidity and tends to have higher fees and expenses than daily liquid mutual funds.

The Fund is structured as an unlisted closed-end interval fund. Limited liquidity is provided to shareholders only through the Fund's quarterly offers to repurchase between 5% and 25% of its outstanding shares at net asset value, subject to applicable law and approval of the Board of Trustees. The Fund currently expects to offer to repurchase 5% of outstanding shares per quarter. There is no secondary market for the Fund's shares and none is expected to develop. There is no guarantee that an investor will be able to tender all or any of their requested Fund shares in a periodic repurchase offer. Investors should consider shares of the Fund to be an illiquid investment.

The ICE BofA U.S. High Yield Constrained Index is a capitalization-weighted index of all US dollar denominated below investment grade corporate debt publicly issued in the US domestic market.

Morningstar LSTA US Leveraged Loan Index is a market-value weighted index designed to measure the performance of the US leveraged loan market.

Important Information on the Credit Opportunities Fund

The minimum initial investment for Institutional Class I Shares is $1 million per account, except that the minimum investment may be modified for certain financial firms that submit orders on behalf of their customers, the Trustees and certain employees (and their extended family members) of Lord Abnett and its affiliates. There is no minimum subsequent investment amount.

A Note about Risk: The Fund is subject to the general risks associated with investing in debt securities, including market, credit, liquidity, and interest rate risk. The Fund may invest in high-yield, lower-rated securities, sometimes called junk bonds. These securities carry increased risks of price volatility, illiquidity, and the possibility of default in the timely payment of interest and principal. The Fund may invest in debt securities of stressed and distressed issuers as well as in defaulted securities and debtor-in-possession financings. Distressed and defaulted instruments generally present the same risks as investment in below investment grade instruments. However, in most cases, these risks are of a greater magnitude because of the uncertainties of investing in an issuer undergoing financial distress. The Fund may invest in foreign or emerging market securities, which may be adversely affected by economic, political, or regulatory factors and subject to currency volatility and greater liquidity risk. The Fund may invest in derivatives, which are subject to greater liquidity, leverage, and counterparty risk. These factors can affect Fund performance. Because of the risks associated with the Fund's ability to invest in high yield securities, loans and related instruments and mortgage-related and other asset-backed instruments, foreign (including emerging market) securities (and related exposure to foreign currencies), and the Fund's ability to use leverage, an investment in the Fund should be considered speculative and involving a high degree of risk, including the risk of a substantial loss of investment.

GLOSSARY

Standard deviation is a measure of volatility. Applied to an asset's return, it provides a measure of the range of those returns. A higher standard deviation means a greater range of returns. Duration is a measure of the sensitivity of the price of a fixed-income asset to a change in interest rates and is expressed in years. Sharpe ratio is the measure of excess return per unit of risk.

Collateral Loan Obligation (CLO) is a special purpose vehicle (SPV) with securitization payments in the form of different tranches. Financial institutions back this security with receivables from loans. Collateralized loan obligations are the same as collateralized mortgage obligations (CMOs) except for the assets securing the obligation. CLOs allow banks to reduce regulatory capital requirements by selling large portions of their commercial loan portfolios to international markets, reducing the risks associated with lending.

Asset-Backed Security (ABS) is a financial security backed by a loan, lease or receivables against assets other than real estate and mortgage-backed securities. For investors, asset-backed securities are an alternative to investing in corporate debt.

Real estate investment trusts (REITs) are companies that own, operate, or finance income-producing real estate across a wide range of property sectors. These investments allow you to earn income from real estate without having to buy, manage, or finance properties themselves.

Business Development Companies (BDCs) are a form of unregistered closed-end investment company that combines attributes of publicly traded companies and closed-end investment vehicles.

Special Situations may include, but are not limited to, complex, dislocated and stressed or distressed conditions such as mergers or acquisitions, spin-offs, and other types of reorganizations; litigation, bankruptcy proceedings, financial restructurings and workouts; new products, management, regulatory or industry changes; circumstances relating to the legal, contractual and technical structures of securities or other financial assets; or other circumstances that the Adviser believes have caused the issuer's securities or other financial assets to be undervalued.

Bottom-up investing is an investment approach that focuses on analyzing individual securities and de-emphasizes the significance of macroeconomic factors and market cycles.

Top-down investing focuses on macro factors of the economy before examining micro security specific factors.

Bottom-up, idiosyncratic investing is an investment approach in which portfolio candidates are primarily evaluated based on unique factors, circumstances, characteristics, and performance drivers that are specific to the underlying issuer or asset.
