

LORD ABBETT®

Jack Baldwin

Partner, Head of Strategic Relationship Group

Jack Baldwin is responsible for overseeing the Strategic Relationship Group that manages the business relationships and strategic efforts related to the firm's distribution partners, including broker dealers, private banks, and insurance companies. In addition, he oversees the Client Relationships Group dedicated to providing best in class service to the professional buyer market.

Mr. Baldwin joined Lord Abbett in 2000 and was named Partner in 2008. Prior to his current role, he served in various roles within U.S. Retail including Relationship Manager within the Strategic Relationship Group; Director of National Accounts for Global Banks and Wirehouses; and Regional Manager in the Midwest. His previous experience includes serving as Institutional Government Securities Broker at Garban-Intercapital Securities and broker at Hilliard Farber & Co. He is an active member of the Investment Management Consultants Association and the Money Management Institute, the trade association for advisory based businesses. He has worked in the financial services industry since 1987.

He earned a BA in history from the University of Delaware.